Lisa Marie Presley, Turbulence

Imagine that I cant be comforted at all In pieces I went from crawling into a ball Evidence, its in my breathing every day Less and less

Hey you you wore me out there was nothing left for anybody else

And you your the last little shit that anyone expected

Could put me through this yeah its true

Turbulence auto pilot to control down and down and down

And if hes there then III take my order to go

He shouldnt see he shouldnt know

Hey you you wore me out there was nothing left for anybody else

And you your the last little shit that anyone expected

Could put me through this yeah fucker its true

And over there in the corner of the room

Sat little Jack Horner in his gloom

Do you like it there

Na na na na na

Hey you you slither around while you rip every vein out

And you your once so charming self inflicted tortured act

Its a loser and a posers tool

Hey you you wore me out there was nothing left for anybody else

And you youre the last little shit that anyone expected

Could put me through this

Yeah fucker its true

Imagine that

Imagine that
