

Lisa Marie Presley, When You Go

Theres so much to offer, so much to throw away
The ever present darker side is making you color blind
But luckily my blinded one
I know you and not what youve done
Not what youve done
You beautiful soul
When you go a feeling that chokes
When you go a fever that soaks
When you go you go away
Into the unknown
When you go you break my heart
Dont you go cause its chokes
It chokes
Given all you are inside a shaft of light that you cant hide
But an idle mind will dominate and feed all the demons steak
When you walk around that old street
Where you lived and who you were then
You can have it again
Everythings not broke
When you go a feeling that chokes
When you go a fever that soaks
When you go you go away
Into the unknown
When you go you break my heart
Dont you go cause its chokes
It chokes
When you go a feeling that chokes
When you go a fever that soaks
When you go you go away
Into the unknown
When you go you break my heart
Dont you go cause its chokes
It chokes
Its a fever that soaks
You go away
Into the unknown
Into the unknown
When you go you break my heart
Dont you go yeah cause it chokes
It chokes
