

Lisa Stansfield, Soul Deep

Baby don't go
You've nearly shown everything you are to me
Darling don't stray stay here with me
Because that's how it ought to be
You've come this far
To see who you are
See the love inside yourself
Don't be afraid I'm holding your hand
Just let the love run freely through me.
You're so tangled up in love
Searching for your soul, searching for yourself
So tangled up in love
That you can't see anything else
My oh my
Do I have to tell you how to live your life
Ooh baby don't you know, now that your mine
You've got to set your loving free
Tell me you see all we can be
That we can be magical
Throw off your pride and show me inside
Show me what you're frightened of
You're so tangled up in love
Searching for your soul, searching for yourself
So tangled up in love
That you can't see anything else
My oh my
Do I have to tell you how to live your life
Ooh baby, don't you know, now that your mine
You've got to set your loving free
