

Lisahall, I Know I Can Do It

"Everything is, black and white now.
Making me feel like something I knew.
All that I asked for. All I have now.
Is one more question, no more answers.

Chorus:

I guess I've been this way before, I know I can do it.
I guess I've been this way before.
I guess I've been this way before, I know I can do it.
I guess I've been this way.

Every sound now, breaks the silence.

Can you stop this crying inside.

Not in anger, not in heartbreak.

So sincerely, I remember.

I guess I've been this way before, I know I can do it.

I guess I've been this way before. (oh-oh)

I guess I've been this way before, I know I can do it.

I guess I've been this way (ah-mm-ahh ooo-ahh-mm-ahh).

All my feelings, split into two.

So confusing, for someone like you.

This my secret, I feel no shame.

Give me something, something to blame.

I guess I've been this way before, I know I can do it.

I guess I've been this way before. (oh-oh)

I guess I've been this way before, I know I can do it.

I guess I've been this way (this way).

I guess I've been this way before, I know I can do it.

I guess I've been this way."
