

Little Birdy, It's All My Fault

I don't want you around
I falter now I know
I'm losing all my mind
Hold onto it and you'll see that love
Is all you have
Truth and truth remain

But I know
I wanna go where you go
Baby look at how you're all alone
And my little heart is beating now

Oh, it's not right, don't monopolize
On the tragic of the weak
Cos the strain will do you good
But how
Do you need her? She's always
Losing love
She's always climbing up

Cos I know
I wanna go where you go
Baby look at how you're all alone
And my little heart is beating now

But I know
That someday you will find love
Baby I want you to make me feel (feel)
Like the woman that I am supposed to be

But I am open to love
