Live, Lakini's Juice

it was an evening i shared with the sun to find out where we belong from the earliest days we were dancing in the shadows more wine cuz i got to have it more skin cuz i got to eat it inside the outside, by the river, used to be so calm used to be so sane I rushed the lady's room took the water from the toilet washed her feet and blessed her name more peace is such a dirty habit slow down, we're too afraid let me ride let me ride burn my eyes let me ride
