

Live, The Beauty Of Grey

if I told you he was your brother we could reminisce then you would go about your day if I said you ought to give him some of your water you'd shake your canteen and walk away the perception that divides you from him is a lie
for some reason you never asked why this is not a black and white world you can't afford to believe in your side
this is not a black and white world
to be alive
I say that the colors must swirl and I believe
that maybe today
we will all get to appreciate the beauty of gray
if I told you that she was your mother we could analyze the situation and be gone if I said you ought to give her

some of your water
your eyes would light up like the dawn the perception that divides you from her
is a lie
for some reason you never asked why
this is not a black and white world
you can't afford to believe in your side
this is not a black and white world
to be alive
I say the colors must swirl
and I believe
that maybe today
we will all get to appreciate
the beauty of gray
look into your eyes
no daylight
new day now