

Living Sacrifice, Perfect

Let it take hold.

We have perverted, destroyed the truth

Exchanged for a slant or fiction that feeds the part of me

That will become the darkest place of all.

One thought, one word spoken

All of this exists unto you

In everything I believe and see that confirms the love

We have perverted, destroyed the truth

Exchanged for a fabrication

This hope that lies within exposed for all to see

Let it take hold

I choose a perfect way

In everything I believe and see that confirms the love

Can I receive this gift, never ceasing?

This hope that lies within Let it take hold