

Lloyd Cole, What He Doesn't Know

if i told you that i'd never really cared and if i told you that i'd never cried you'd know that i lied you'd know i lied and if i told you that i'd found somebody new it wouldn't make it any easier and what he doesn't know won't hurt at all

you know just as well as i that he's a better man than i and i know you know guess i never got around to telling you i guess that if i told you now then i'd have nothing to lose well i think of you

'cause if i told you that i'd found another girl

you know just as well as i, you know just as well as i he's a better man than i, he's a better man than i could ever be
