

LMNT, Open Your Eyes (To Love)

You've been searching the world to find true love
Looking in all the wrong places
When all of the time you've been blind to love
It's plain as the nose on your faces

It's here, it's now
Open your eyes and see it
Right here, right now
Open your eyes to love

You've been down on yourself
Thinking something's wrong
Wonder why love has never found you
Don't you know it's been right here all along
If only you'd look around you -girl

It's here, it's now
Open your eyes and see it
Open your eyes to love

Love has been right by your side
But, oh - So close that you couldn't see
If love could speak
It would shout to the sky
I've always been here
I always will be

I'm here, I'm now
Open your eyes and see me
Open your eyes to love

Open your eyes to love
Open your heart to love
