

Lockjaw, Living In My Head

In dark times when you feel
All alone
There seems to be no light
To scare the demons
It's getting heavy now
Thoughts engage
My hands begin to shake
As I brace myself for
Living in my head

Take comfort in knowing you're
Not alone
We all go through a time of
Mass confusion
Embrace the moments
Memories
We'll make it through again
Just brace yourself for
Living in your head

I brace myself for living
I brace for living inside my head
I brace myself for living
I brace myself for living inside my head

I brace myself for living

I brace myself for living
I brace for living inside my head
I brace myself for living
I brace myself for living inside my head