

Lois Lane, It's because

Under a moonlit sky
Down by the water
I watch it flow towards a girl, a wife, a mother
I take a look at the years gone by
When all around was speeding
When all I took for real was a lie
Leads it to misleading

It's because
There's a moon
That shines on you
Like a beacon
It's because
Anytime soon
I will be the water that flows to you

Under a moonlit sky
I touch the water
I watch the circles move
Away from someone younger
And I look up at the shooting star
It glows without a meaning
Trying to tell us who we really are
And just stop the need for heading

It's because
There's a moon
That shines on you
Like a beacon
It's because
Anytime soon
I will be the water that flows to you