Lonely Kings, UFO

Fore me to follow Your candy covered lies I choke on patience Light in the dark gray skies One far and away Until we return Life won't get in front of you The fire burns the nighttime The juice that melts your bain Solidarity among chaos Stand united in the remains I can't believe it's true I can't believe it's you The compassion isn't easy When someone needs your empathy In hope's someday that you will realize Sometimes it hurts to be a friend.
