

Loretta Lynn, Thin Grey Line

I can't say that it's black
I can't say that it's white
Is it really wrong
Is it really right.

We don't know
Where to place it
I guess we'll have
To face it.
We walk the thin grey line of love.

We shouldn't be together
We have so much to lose
One of us must make the choice
But please don't make me choose.

I feel I've got to have you
I feel the same way too
Our love should go
For we both know.
We walk the thin grey line of love.

--- Instrumental ---

We both tried hard to break up
But we just break each vow
If you'll just say you don't love me
I'd stay away somehow.

But you know I can't say it
And I'd die if you could
We'll break our home as if we'll go on Walkin' the thin grey line of love.

Yes, we walk the thin grey line of love...