

Loretta Lynn, Too Far

(Marty Robbins)

I gave you everything I thought I'd wear your ring someday on my finger
In love so blind I stepped to cross the line now just memories of you linger
Just like a child I wished upon a star sometimes the girl in love will go too far
I was a crazy fool let my heart overrule each decision my mind was makin'
The harm has done there is no place to run you can't give me back what you taken
I gave my all now I don't know where you are sometimes the girl in love will go too far
Too far oh yes too far sometimes the girl in love will go too far
But I know I was smart for in a little while I'll be holdin' somebody new
A little girl a tiny baby girl and I know she will look like you
And she'll be loved just the same way that you are Sometimes the girl in love will go too far
