

Lori McKenna, You Are Loved

I'll find you on a better day
When wings of yours can fly away
Sometime when my smile can say
All a heart need say

I can find you anywhere
In every life I'll find you there
Just give me time to make it clear
To steal a soul away

Well I can see the sun in wintertime
And I know that you can not be mine
Things left alone are never fine
The world and God above
Well I wish you all of happiness
And I know someday you'll find success
But find yourself as nothing less
And know that you are loved

Well the moon and stars sometimes collide
So we can see the brighter side
And in giving what we've been denied
Is all a seed need sow
All a heart need know

Well I can see the sun in wintertime
And I know that you can not be mine
Things left alone are never fine
The world and God above
Well I wish you all of happiness
And I know someday you'll find success
But find yourself as nothing less
And know that you are loved

All of heaven's goals
Is all a heart need know

Well I'll find you on a better day
When wings of yours can fly away
Sometime when my smile can say
All a heart need say
