

Lorraine, Tell Me Where You Wanna Go

You came in like you came to get,
I don't quite know what to expect.

A Thurston killer's rapture, you'll be sorry ever after.

Finish your beer and leave the room,
it was the seventh lifes improved.

Don't ask me my past,
cause you don't wanna know.

Tell me where you wanna go,
and we'll go, you know I wanna go faster.

Leave the story that I never after, ever after,
cause no one's gone and no so tell me where you wanna go.

Driving through an endless night,
talking easy watching light.

Don't tell me how you feel,
you'll be fine behind the wheel.

I'll take a left and drop straight on,
I can feel the cities gone.

We might never get there,
we might not get that close.

So tell me where you wanna go, and we'll go, you know I wanna go faster,
leave the story that I never after, ever after,
cause no one's gone and no now tell me where you wanna go.

And we'll go, you know I wanna go faster,
leave the story I never after, ever after,
cause no one's gone and no now tell me where you wanna go.

Tell me where you wanna go, and we'll go, you know I wanna go faster,
leave the story that I never after, ever after,
cause no one's gone and no now tell me where you wanna go.

And we'll go, you know I wanna go faster,
leave the story that I never after, ever after,
cause no one's gone and no now tell me where you wanna go.

Now tell me where you wanna go,
now tell me where you wanna go,
I'll tell you where you wanna go
