

LostAlone, Telepathy Nights

This was like a dream I had a conversation with you in my sleep
And I think that you were aware cos today your looking at me in a strange way
Dont you mistake my affection for hate
Its all just a game I implore you to play along obey me
If confidence remains it would be a treat to meet you lets walk on the shore
Extinguish my face reasons are empty here forth
The harder we come the harder we fall apart
Im on fire and the flames taste like ice
Can you feel this
Some feelings fade addicted now with time apart
Now Im exposed now you now know whats in my heart
