

Louise, How In The World

(by charles and wilson)

Tell me how in the world
Does a bird in the sky
Keep flying higher will's trying

Tell me how in the world
Does a flower bloom show such beauty
What of the trinkets we're buying
A world behind
Can't you see the sunshine
Roses bloom
Flowers in the field
The pool of light
Reflections in the moonlight
A dolphin swims
Tell me how in the world
Can a smile of a child be healing
What the doctors are dealing

How in the world
Does the autumn, summer, spring
Give a life to what has been
And welcomes winter in
The eagles fly
Higher than a mountain
The blue whales swim
Deep within the sea
And as we destroy
And why we destroy it
The world we in
Surely you have to see

How in the world
Can we see a shinning star
And place it on a jar
Yet it still to far

How in the world

Can a man be on the moon
Yet it still to soon
For peace to be here soon

How in the world
Can a runner full right down
To a place that is never found
But we're still look to the ground

You see we search to find the goal
From the story that I'm told
To see the greed that has been generated
The young from the old

How in the world
Can you see a shinning star
See a shinning star
And place it on the jar
Place it on the jar
And yet it's to far
Can the man be on the moon
Man be on the moon

Yet it still to soon
Still to soon
How in the world
How in the world
Can you see a shining star
And place it in on a jar
Ooooh yeah

How in the world
Can the man be on the moon
Yet it still to soon

Still to soon.
