

Love Like Blood, Hide

don't run away if you're in danger we will come to help you, cause this is no world for runaways
cause this is no world for runaways.

when a friend betrays you in the name of policy if the judge condemns to death in the name of religion sometimes people are so sick that you give them something to vomit

you have to hide your smile
you have to hide your god
you have to hide your pleasure you have to hide your love if someone has disappeared justified by inconvenience when dictatorships start a war in the name of holiness

your love
