Lovex, My Isolation

Once again, they tell me that I'm insensible It must be true, it's always the same accusation

You don't feel well and you seek a reason I guess it's me, I guess it's my lack of compassion

And I fake to sympathize With the struggles you endure every day

These desperate cries Surround my isolation I wanna be alone Am I whole? Am I hollow?

Before my eyes the most beautiful girl cries Still I run to avoid any complications

And I fake to sympathize With the struggles you endure every day

These desperate cries Surround my isolation I wanna be alone Am I whole? Am I hollow?

When heaven descends to the Palms of my hands I wanna be alone Am I whole? Am I hollow?

These desperate cries Surround my isolation I wanna be alone I wanna be

When heaven descends to the Palms of my hands I wanna be alone I wanna be
