

Lucero, All These Love Songs

Well I'm tired of all of these love songs
Those girls now those times are gone
But my heart keeps holdin' on
Well, I'm tired of thinkin' about you
And the hell that you put me through
But the songs eat up some of the pain
Take the place of the tears
And they ease the heartache over you, my dear
Well, I'm tired of these love songs
They won't make you mine
I'm tired of singin' my heart out every night
I'm here all along, not a soul to hear
All of these love songs, and where the hell are you my dear
Well, I'm tired of all of these songs now
Never meant to let you down
It just all went wrong somehow
Well, I'm tired of feeling all this hurt
And I'm tired of all these words
