

Luciano, Guess What's Happening

See that broken hearted man toiling in the burning sun dissapointed African doesn't even "overstand";
After so many years of sweat and tears still he's living in fear wondering "if and when"; he's gonna have his share

"[Chorus:]"
Well - guess what's happening a new day's dawning
see the black son's rising soon he will be free

See that poor disgruntled youth trying his best to know the truth why his ancestors have died from those all who robbed and ruled so many years of blood and stain still he's working in vain wondering if and whan he'll ever have his share

"[Chorus:]"
Well - guess what's happening
a new day's dawning
I see a new horizon
soon he will be free

How could life be so unfair he wonders how some get out there sitting in their rocking chair while he's living in despair After so many years of sweat and tears
wondering if and when he's gonna have his share

"[Chorus:]"
Guess what's happening
I see a new day's dawning
I the table is turning
soon he will be free
yo ho ho

guess what's happening
a new day's dawning
I see the table is turning
soon he will be free
yo ho ho

see a new horizon
