

Lucky 7, Tiffany

Driving in my car
Got a message on my phone
You say you don't love me anymore
So I call your house that night
Frightened so fight
Afraid to be alone
You were the one that had to change
And I was never wrong
Just talking to myself in my head
Trying to be strong
So I try to tell her that
I can't live without her
But she doesn't understand
I played these games
One too many times
And I was a fool to think she'd change
The end is near and I can't let you go
I cling to words I cannot say
So I try to tell her
I can't live without her
But she doesn't understand.
She says not today and maybe not ever
You lost today maybe forever
