Lucy Rose, The Racket

I said thank you thank you thank you For loving me

I've been searching every minute of life For what you give me

Cause if I'm real honest and you know it It's not always breezy

Took it for granted Life ain't always what you were handed Don't be so easily offended There's somethings I learnt to live with cause somethings can't be changed

Cause I make the most of a bad occasion Without much choice

Cause I'm still picking up the racket And I hit the ball

As the white feather begins to fall down Heaven is near

And I wonder if you're out there listening Forgiveness is real

No you can't break me down I won't let you bring me down

Take a deep breath
Cause I'm still picking up the racket
I said
Thank you thank you thank you thank you
I said
Thank you thank you thank you
