

Luka Bloom, This Is For Life

She met her love
In an English prison cell
He looked so tired
On their wedding day
Visitors hours
So the time flew by
Before they parted
Heard each other say

This is for life for me
This is for life for me

He said
If love walks on beaches
What am I to do
If love talks in soft whispers
What am I to do
Lovers gaze at sunsets
What am I to do
What am I to do

This is for life for me
This is for life for me

She sends soul kisses
To that moonless place
She's a time keeper
She knows he will come home
She's a lighthouse
He looks for her in his mind's eye
Just to hear her say

This is for life for me
This is for life for me
This is for life
This is for life
