

Luke Pickett, And Asleep I Am Your Everything

Roll the clocks and be with me.
Our hearts won't race forever.
Now its time to be.
I sold you these words and I gave you my heart.
It's yours.

Because hunny if yours stops, then mine stops and everything else stops.
You better stop wasting your time around my dreams.
And baby if you stay, well then I'll stay and everything else stays the same.
You better quit playing around with our dreams.

Don't lose yourself in dreams where you can run away from me.
You're not protected from these arms of jealousy.
I am jealousy.
The more you run the more speed that you give me.
Wherever your heart is that's where mine will be.

Because hunny if yours stops, then mine stops and everything else stops.
You better stop wasting your time around my dreams.
And baby if you stay, well then I'll stay and everything else stays the same.
You better quit playing around with our dreams.

Don't lose yourself in dreams where you can run away from me.
You're not protected from these arms of jealousy.
I am jealousy.
Because if yours stops, then mine stops, and everything else stops.
And if you stay well then I'll stay and everything else stays
