

Lunik, Life Is All Around You

25 years I was scared of being loved 'cause I was terrified of being left
I was growing colder day by day
I was good at falling in love with anybody who was too big, too small, too far away
But I felt there's something missing
I never reached for the stars
But now the brightest fell from the sky right in front of my feet
He made ashes bloom and he showed me everyday of my life's worth living
And life is all around me

Life is all around you just open your eyes
Life is all around you
You can live in paradise
You just gotta lift your head and make a step
'Cause life is all around you

I used to be a fugitive of shadows and dark fantasies my skin is too thin for this world
So I've built four walls around my heart
I never reached for the stars
But now the brightest fell from the sky right in front of my feet
You make ashes bloom and you show me everyday of my life's worth living
And life is all around me

Life is all around you just open up your eyes
Yeah life is all around you
You can live in paradise
Life is all around you just open up your eyes
Yeah life is all around you
You can live in paradise
You just gotta lift your head and make a step
'Cause life is all around

I'd forgotten how to spell happiness
I had forgotten how to laugh
I didn't dream anymore 'cause I was scared of waking up
You lifted the curtain as if before I'd been blind
Suddenly I started breathing with you I found my way to life

You lifted the curtain with you I found my way to life
Suddenly I started breathing before I was blind
You lifted the curtain with you I found my way to life
Suddenly I started breathing before I was blind

Life is all around you just open up your eyes
Life is all around you
You can live in paradise
Life is all around you just open up your eyes
Life is all around you
You can live in paradise
You just gotta lift your head and make a step
'Cause life is all around you
Yeah life is all around you
