

Lunik, Serenity

it seems as though everything has grown during the night
the trees are giants and the sky is light this morning's pure and quiet wrapped in the sheets you grab my hand when I wanna get up and pull me back to the warmth of your arms life is on our side

your smell is everywhere it spread during the night I could lay here forever it just feels warm and right nothing to do today just breathing in and breathing out

serenity
I feel so alive
where is all the darknes
what have I done to deserve this and it seems as though everything has grown during the night

life is on our side oh yeah
