Lyle Lovett, Family Reserve

(Lyle Lovett)

When I saw the ambulance Screaming down Main Street I didn't give it a thought But it was my Uncle Eugene He died on October the second 1981

And my Uncle Wilbert
They all called him Skinner
They said for his younger ways
He'd get drunk in the morning
And show me the rolls of fifties and hundreds
He kept in the glove box of his old gray Impala

And we're all gonna be here forever So Mama don't you make such a stir Now put down that camera And come on and join up The last of the family reserve

Now my second cousin
His name was Callaway
He died when he'd barely turned two
It was peanut butter and jelly that did it
The help she didn't know what to do
She just stood there and watched him turn blue

And we're all gonna be here forever So Mama don't you make such a stir Just put down that camera And come on and join up The last of the family reserve

And my friend Brian Temple
He thought he could make it
So from the third story he jumped
He missed the swimming pool
Only by inches
And everyone said he was drunk

Now there was great Uncle Julius And Aunt Annie Mueller And Mary and Granddaddy Paul And there was Hanna and Ella And Alvin and Alec He owned his own funeral hall

And there are more I remember And more I could mention Than words I could write in a song But I feel them watching And I see them laughing And I hear them singing along

We're all gonna be here forever So Mama don't you make such a stir Just put down that camera And come on and join up The last of the family reserve
