Lyle Lovett, She's Already Made Up Her Mind

(Lyle Lovett)

She said something about going home She said something about needing to spend some time alone And she wondered out loud what it was she had to find But she's already made up her mind

All my friends told me she was too young Well I knew that myself and I tried to run But the faster I ran the more I fell behind Because she'd already made up her mind

She's already made up her mind

Now there is nothing so deep as the ocean And there is nothing so high as the sky And there is nothing so unwavering as a woman When she's already made up her mind

So now she's sitting at one end of the kitchen table And she is staring without an expression And she is talking to me without moving her eyes Because she's already made up her mind

She's already made up her mind She's already made up her mind

And she said something about going home And she said something about needing to spend some time alone And she wondered out loud what it was she had to find But she'd already made up her mind

So my friend carry me down to the water's edge And then sail with me out to that ocean deep And let me go easy down over the side And remember me to her

She's already made up her mind She's already made up her mind She's already made up her mind
