

Lynn Anderson, It's Only Lonely Me

If you hear some footsteps walking close behind you in the night

And you look around and no one do you see

If you feel someone is watching you and there's no one in sight

Have no fear it's only lonely me

It's only lonely me I want you back again

So I send my memory to haunt you now and then

It follows you around wherever you may be

The ghost of love that's gone it's only lonely me

[ steel ]

If sometimes you have the feeling there is something you forgot

Though you try you can't remember what it was

It's my mem'ry over trying to remind you like as not it was me that you forgot to love

It's only lonely me...