

Lynn Anderson, Just Keep It Up And See What H

One day baby you'll be sorry for the way you make people cry
It's not so funny not really funny one day you'll wake up and realize
Just keep it up just keep it up just keep it up and see what happens
One day you told me oh how you told me things that made me shake inside
And then you kissed me oh how you kissed me then turned around and said you lie
Just keep it up just keep it up just keep it up and see what happens
Please stop doing the things you're doing I know we can't get along
Your love could learn out one day you'll see and then your heart will belong to me
Just keep it up just keep it up just keep it up and see what happens
Just keep it up just keep it up just keep it up and see what happens
Just keep it up just keep it up just keep it up and see what happens
