

Lynn Anderson, Penny For Your Thoughts

While walking by your side along the way I spide a tiny cup of penny on the ground
Because your thoughts that day seemed oh so far away
I handed you the penny I had found

A penny for your thoughts a penny for your thoughts

I ask you not expecting the answer that I got

You told of someone else and how you cared a lot

Look at all the heartache one tiny penny bought

[steel]

My penny's worth of tears will last a million years and be forever in this heart of mine

I'll be so well supplied with dreams I know have died

My penny's worth sure last a long long time

A penny for your thoughts...
