

Lynn Anderson, Then Go

If you care no more for me if your love is gone
And if your heart is colder than the snow then go
Why do you keep hurting me make the pain go on
You must like to see my teardrops flow
Well you're finally through with me and you're satisfied
That you've hurt me every way you know
And when you think you've broke my heart just so then go then go
(Why do you keep hurting me...)
