

Maaya Sakamoto, Gravity

Been a long road to follow
Been there and gone tomorrow
Without saying goodbye to yesterday
All the memories ahold
Still there left
Oh hath the tears deluded them?
Maybe this time tomorrow
The rain will cease to follow
And the mist will fade into a more today
Somethings all the way up there keeps going
Am I going home?
Will I hear someone?
Singing solace to this silence
Zero gravity
Would take less
Is somebody there beyond this sadly aching feat
Still the road keeps telling me to go on
Something is pulling me
I feel the gravity
Of it all
