

Mad Marge And The Stonecutters, Walk Away

There was a day that was cold and grey
When you turned your head and you walked away
And that's okay
Now your cherry's red 'cause you burned your bed
And you're lookin' for a place to hang your head
And that's not okay

And I said go
Go on and build it up
I said, b-b-b-build it up
I said, just build it on up

These words are for all you haters and all you nay sayers
That told me I should just walk away
'Cause it's too hard to walk away walk away
I can't make my heart to walk away

So here I stay and I'm tryin' to change
Not sure if I can live this way
I hope that is okay
But instead I'm wrong as I march along
To a sound that beats a very differnt song
And that's not okay, no

And you said go
Go on and tear it down
You said t-t-t-tear it down
You said just tear it on down

These words are for all you haters and all you nay sayers
That told me I should just walk away
'Cause it's too hard to walk away walk away
I can't make my heart to walk away

And as we wait around
Don't let them bring you down
Don't let them bring you down

These words are for all you haters and all you nay sayers
That told me I should just walk away
'Cause it's too hard to walk away walk away
I can't make my heart to walk away

'Cause it's too hard to walk away walk away
I can't make my heart to walk away
