

Madball, Confessions

youre always talking but the things you say have no meaning, they carry no weight.

take your time but dont waste mine.

go sell your stories im not looking to buy.

we all have flaws but this is your downfall.

talkin a game you cant even back up and youre so hollow you have no clue.

theres repercussions and theyre comin for you.

confessions-i leave it up to you,

i know where i stand.

oppressions-something i must choose to make you understand.

to make you understand i dont share your pains cuz i dont preach about pointless things.

i only speak when i have something to say or i wont fake moves disgrace my name.

self pride-i cant throw away,

i have too much love for family.

self pride-i wont throw away,

raised to be real from the first day.
