

Madina Lake, Again and Again

I'm frozen as my life is bursting into flames from deep within I panic, worrying about the future then the past begins to chase me down But this time you're the only one around And I'm staring at a photograph from before I was sick and addicted to you it was a perfect life whatever happened to me?
I can't get out of my way
Again and again
cause I'm addicted to you
Again and again
Because I'm dead without you
How will I live through today?
I'm standing at the edge of my life again Afraid of jumping in And you're there,
Covering up the holes I went and carved into myself again
Whatever happened to me?
I can't get out of my way
Again and again
cause I'm addicted to you
Again and again
Because I'm dead without you
How will I live through
I know that I will find a way
Again and again
Again and again
If I was born to lose it all I would've given up but there's a fire in my heart I can't put it out sometimes the future's blurry because sometimes our perfect lives get lost inside ourselves
I can't get out of my way
again and again
cause I'm addicted to you
again and again
because I'm dead without you
how will I live through
again and again
cause I'm addicted to you
again and again
because I'm dead without you
how will I live through today?
