

Madrugada, Call My Name

Come in my room tonight
Undress in the dying light
Where I have been waiting for you These days it's all I ever do

When you call my name
It's gonna be my ticket
To the miracle land
When you call my name Stamping your initials Across the back of my hand
This winter has been very long
I've hardly ever seen anyone
But spring has come and everything's new Now I have been sleeping with you

When you call my name
It's gonna be my ticket
To the miracle land
When you call my name Stamping your initials
Across the back of my hand When I lie awake
Dreams of dread and wonder Dance before my eyes
Was this really meant for me?
Oh, my God, what a nice surprise!
When will I see you again?
There's a line in the palm of my hand That's running deep and red as love You take me with you w

When you call my name
It's gonna be my ticket
To the miracle land
When you call my name
Stamping your initials
Across the back of my hand
Just for once in my life
I wanna know that what I got is good enough Guess we all will have our time
Must be a moment when it all adds up
So, when will I see you again? Baby, it's not over, it's not over
