

Maggie Reilly, Listen To Your Heart

You keep going your own way
You know the rules you can't deny
Stop kidding yourself
You're saying goodbye

Thought you had all the answers
Memorised the games to play
Behave yourself now
Don't throw this away

Listen to your heart and you will hear it
Takes a fool in love to understand
Listen to your heart to see
Just how these things are planned

Look into your soul and you will know it
A gift like this is sent from high above
Listen to your heart to find
The meaning of this love

Later on I'll recover
I'll learn before I go insane
You're out of control
Excuses are lame

Listen to your heart and you will hear it
Takes a fool in love to understand
Listen to your heart to see
Just how these things are planned

Can't you see it's a crying shame
Oh, you're throwing it all away
There's nobody I can blame
How I wish you could hear me say...

Listen to your heart

Listen!

Listen to your heart and you will hear it
Takes a fool in love to understand
Listen to your heart to see
Just how these things are planned

Listen to your heart and you will hear it
Takes a fool in love to understand
Listen to your heart to see
Just how these things are planned

Listen to your heart
Won't you listen to your heart
