

Maggie Reilly, Once In A While

Don't be afraid
The light ahead may lead you
Down another path
Time's always on your side

Hear what I say
If you believe that miracles
Can come to pass
Don't ask for less

Just close your eyes
If you always look behind
You've lost the moment
All things in time
Will come to those with something to believe

Once in a while
Love comes to find you
It opens up your heart again
Just let it happen

Once in a while
Tho' tears may blind you
The sadness melts like winter snow
When spring is here at last

Love comes just as easily
As night turns into day
So if you have the will
You'll find the way

Don't be afraid
The light ahead may lead you
Down another path
Time's always on your side

Hear what I say
If you believe that miracles
Can come to pass
Don't ask for less

And you will see
The beauty and the mystery begin
And you will know
The wonder of the love deep down within

Once in a while
Love comes to find you
It opens up your heart again
Just let it happen

Once in a while
Tho' tears may blind you
The sadness melts like winter snow
When spring is here at last

Love comes just as easily
As night turns into day
So if you have the will
You'll find the way

Once in a while
Love comes to find you
It opens up your heart again

Just let it happen

Once in a while
Tho' tears may blind you
The sadness melts like winter snow
When spring is here at last

Once in a while
Love comes to find you
It opens up your heart again
Just let it happen

Once in a while
Tho' tears may blind you
The sadness melts like winter snow
When spring is here at last