

Maggie Reilly, Tell Me

They say there is no second chance
If love should ever call your name
But when I tried to test my wings
Fate turned and shot me down in flames

Tell me it's not over now
You don't mean what you say
Tell me it's not happening
I can't believe it ends this way

They say it's dangerous to Fly too near the sun or chase your dreams
Or dare to look behind blue eyes
To see if smiles are what they seem

Tell me it's not over now
You don't mean what you say
Tell me it's not happening
You missed my heart and caught the ricochet

Should I rail
Against the stars
Rage against the moon
Or curse the faithless heavens
For the end that comes too soon

Tell me it's not over now
You don't mean what you say
Tell me it's not happening
I can't believe it ends this way

Tell me it's not over now
You don't mean what you say
Tell me it's not happening
I can't believe it ends this way

Tell me it's not over now
You don't mean what you say
Tell me it's not happening
I can't believe it ends this way
