

Magnum, It Must Have Been Love

Rainy day, stormy night
She couldn't stay, it wasn't right
She never cried, she's very strong
I always tried when it went wrong

It's nothing new, when you lose
But getting through's no pleasure cruise
She never lied, I heard them say
She hit the slide and fell away

Well, it must have been love
That let her down
It must have been love
Pushed her around
Looking for love
She never found
Must have been love
Must have been love
Must have been love

She spends her time on an endless search
And it's a crime, keeps getting hurt
She never learns, takes it day by day
Then she gets burned and turned away

It must have been love
That let her down
It must have been love
Pushed her around and around
Looking for love
She never found
Must have been love
Must have been love

She never learns
Takes it day by day
Then she gets burned
And turned away

It must have been love
That let her down
It must have been love
Pushed her around and around
Looking for love
She never found
Must have been love
Must have been love
Must have been love
