

Mainstay, Away From You

Knowing that your heart's content was the thing that shut their mouths
Watching as you value someone more than yourself
And you taught it well

Send us right away
Our girl doesn't waste her breath
She stands like a sage
She moves, but she never moves away from you

Even as the tears fall, the smile never leaves Wonder in the heartache that they will never see
That is everything

And you're watching everything around you slowly start to fade
But you're holding on to love, even though your heart starts to break
