

Majandra Delfino, Alone

I wish I could read your mind
Words don't mean a thing
I've given you all my time
All you do is leave
And if you were standing here in front of me
I know you would say
There's nothing oh so precious
As something that's gone away
And if there is a reason
I just don't want to know
Why you feel the need to love me so

(breaking glass and car alarms in the background on the word so)

Only when you go
Only when you go.
