

Majandra Delfino, North

How we made it so far
We must've slept through half the ride
The other half had -- --
The view is beautiful outside (?)

Oh oh, what have we done today?
And will it help all of the other days?
And even though I never asked for something better
Than you ever could give to me
Couldn't help but feel there might be something more

You got a way that I could never get from no one
'Cuz you're someone that gets to me
And with or without cash (?) you keep me high

Careful what you say now
I just might be listening
Even when you're playing
Your words are so much to me

Oh oh, what have we done today?
And will it hurt all of the other days?
And even though I never asked for something better
Than you ever could give to me
Couldn't help but feel there might be something more

I say I'm leaving but I got nowhere to go
So in your arms I'll stay, 'til it's okay
Oh this story is so old

Oh oh, what have we done today?
And will it hurt all of the other days?
