

Malese Jow, You Left Me In The Air

you should've let me know the reason why you let me go, let me go it's been killing me inside now that i'm alone
get down to the point you swear you'll tell nothing but the whole truth everything you promised to me fell through baby i can't take anymore you left without a warning thought you'd care
but you left it in the air you left me in the air, air my entire world was falling and there's nothing i can do with you down there you left it in the air so baby tell me if it's me i know
i can change, i can change but you'll still be the same you make it seem as if i wasn't there you left me in the air
i thought you'd care to take the time you ain't wonderin' if i'm alright did you ever think to try to ease my mind

why the sudden change of heart it knocked me out and left a scar i know that there's a reason for it so tell me, tell me what went wrong with you
