

Man, Rainbow Eyes

She's such a lovely lady the girl with rainbow eyes
She thinks she's going crazy but that's just her disguise
She goes through fire and water gets hurt with people's lies
Some people take their pleasure, some people take their pain
She thinks too much, it hurts her, and she can't stop the game

The girl who loves all nature loves sunny skies that last
Loves shadows in the forest, loves walking through the grass
Her body's hot from loving like a bitch she sighs with joy
She's got her love to give you if you'll open up your heart
Her best friend died from loving the girl with the rainbow eyes

She's such a lovely lady the girl with rainbow eyes
She thinks she's going crazy but that's just her disguise
She goes through fire and water gets hurt with people's lies
Some people take their pleasure, some people take their pain
She thinks too much, it hurts her, and she can't stop the game
