

Mans Zelmerlow, Hold On

A child is crying on the TV screen
Remind us everyday of what has been
Wars are fought without an end in sight
The world's divided black and white.
We know what's coming but no one acts
It's time to rise up and face the facts
If we don't try to make our move.
There will soon be nothing left to prove.
Ah...
And we don't wanna wait
Cause the wall's gonna break and we say.
Ah...
And we all know what to do.
Hold on.
And reach for the sun, one by one,
we change how we're living.
Hold on.
Cause it ain't over til it's over.
Hold on.
It's never to late, to change our fate
so don't you, let it go.
Hold on.
Cause it ain't over til it's over.
We can work it out
Keep moving on
We can still be strong
Just try to get alone.
Another city comes tumblin' down
Another ocean makes a rumblin' sound.
Our generation is stained with crime
The next os bound to do the time.
I remember what my mama sad
That our differences are all in your heads.
It doesn't matter what you've done before
We all wanna see what the future has in storme.
Ah...
No we don't wanna wait
Cause the wall's gonna break then we'll say
Ah...
Oh it's time we play our part.
Hold on.
And reach for the sun, one by one,
we change how we're living.
Hold on.
Cause it ain't over til it's over.
Hold on.
It's never to late, to change our fate
so don't you, let it go.
Hold on.
Cause it ain't over til it's over.
We can work it out
Keep moving on
We can still be strong
Just try to get alone.
